HOG FENTON'S ANNUAL EMPLOYMENT LAW UPDATE

Are You on Top of Recent Changes and Trends in Employment Law?

Why This Seminar is Important. As a business owner or human resource professional, you must have a thorough understanding of the relevant laws and regulations to avoid the risk that results from uninformed decisions. Our highly informative and always popular annual seminar will update you on recent legislative changes, hot topics in employment law, and legal trends that will impact California employers into 2010 and beyond. We will give you information you need to minimize your organization's exposure to liability.

Subjects to be Covered. This briefing will include a review of legislation passed in 2009 and the most relevant case law developments over the past year, and how they will impact your workplace. Topics include:

- changes in wage & hour law
- what's new in harassment/discrimination laws, including manager's exposure to personal liability
- recession-related issues
- what's new in workers' comp, disability and leave issues
- other hot topics, including workplace privacy, at-will employment, healthcare reform, and technology policies

Who should attend?

Business owners and managers, CEOs, CFOs, COOs, attorneys, and human resource professionals

Materials to be Provided. All attendees will receive a written synopsis of the leading 2009 case law developments, along with a commentary as to what each case means for your business, and a description of the important new laws that will affect your business in 2010.

Registration Details. We appreciate our clients' need to carefully manage expenses in these challenging times. We are, therefore, waiving our usual $65 registration fee and offering this important program at no charge. A Continental breakfast will be provided.

2 hours of Calif. CLE credit in general law will be provided for our attorney attendees. This program may also qualify for human resources CPE.
